

Sterling Silver Bangle With Red Enamel And Marcasite Hinged Design

£363

REF: AN-BE410

Diameter: 7 cm (2.8")

Description

This sterling silver bangle is designed with a structured circular form, enriched with red enamel and marcasite to create contrast and visual depth. The composition balances smooth surfaces with detailed accents, resulting in a clear and refined decorative piece.

A hinged opening with a safety catch is incorporated into the design, allowing the bangle to be worn and secured with ease. The mechanism is discreetly integrated, maintaining the continuity of the form while adding practical functionality.

This has been handcrafted using traditional silversmithing techniques, this piece demonstrates careful attention to enamel application, stone setting and structural construction. The hinge and fastening are precisely engineered to ensure durability and ease of use, while the surface is finished to a consistent and refined standard.
