Description

Large silver sugar caster with stunning repousse decoration to the lid and body. The body is smothered in organic leaves and flowers against a pitted background. The lid has arabesques and foliage swirled around the crown again with a touch of pitted background behind, with a smooth centre could be used as a cartouche. The lid screws on and both pieces are hallmarked for London 1896 and maker's mark for Horace Woodward & Co

Gilt interior.
